Based in Fort Worth, Texas, Royal Sons all come from diverse backgrounds but ultimately music has been at the core of all of their lives from a very young age. Four of the five Royal Sons--guitarists Chad Beck and Johnny McConlogue, bassist and vocalist Marcus Gonzales and drummer Javier Garza have all honed their crafts and built bonds together over the many years as members of the same rock band or record label. Blues vocalist, Blake Parish, was recruited to join the band to mesh his soulful vocals with the energetic heavy groove of the four piece band. The bountiful blend of blues and rock talent makes the band a must-see set--and calls to mind the likes of Black Sabbath and ZZ Top.
